

Set 1 — Official Q&A Test Set

Legal Aid AI · External evaluation set for answer quality (ROUGE and BERTScore) · Collected 29 September 2026

Questions	50 official questions, each with its official answer
Sources	5 Indian government sources (listed in Table A)
Domains	Consumer: 22 · Cyber: 9 · Constitutional / public authority: 19
Used for	Scoring the app's answers with ROUGE (word overlap) and BERTScore (meaning overlap). The official answer is the reference each app answer is compared against.
File	4parameters_test/externaltestset/set 1/official_qa.json (details in README.md in the same folder)

Why this set exists

The app's own test sets were written by the team, so its scores on them are likely to be optimistic. This set is external: the questions and the correct answers both come from the government, not from us. It shows how the app performs on questions it was not tuned on, with answers nobody on the team wrote.

It is one of three external sets. Set 1 (this one) tests whether answers are correct, using official answers as references. Set 2 tests messy, real-world questions and whether answers are grounded in the retrieved law (AlignScore, ParaScore). Set 3 tests whether the app finds the right law.

How it was built

- Downloaded the official FAQ pages and PDFs directly from the government sites.
- Extracted the text locally and split it into question–answer pairs, so every answer is the official wording, copied exactly — not summarised or paraphrased.
- Chose questions a real user would ask, across consumer, cyber, banking, RTI and legal aid.
- Checked every item was current, against the law in the app's dataset (for example the Consumer Protection Act, 2019) and against current rules. Anything outdated or wrong was excluded (Table C).
- Recorded for each item its source, a link, the original question number, and the dataset documents the app is expected to retrieve.

Key finding: some official FAQs are outdated or contradict the law

While checking the sources, three official FAQs from the National Consumer Helpline turned out to be outdated or wrong, and so did one on the Cybercrime Portal:

- Appeal deadlines contradict the Act. The FAQ says 30 days (District→State) and 45 days (National→Supreme Court); the Consumer Protection Act, 2019 says 45 days (s.41) and 30 days (s.67).
- Claim-value limits are out of date (₹1 crore / ₹10 crore instead of ₹50 lakh / ₹2 crore since the 2021 Rules).
- The filing portal is out of date (e-Daakhil instead of e-Jagriti since January 2025).
- The Cybercrime Portal FAQ still cites the Indian Penal Code, replaced by the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita in 2024.

This is why Legal Aid AI answers from the primary law (Acts and Rules) rather than from FAQs, and why an evaluation set must be checked before it is used: scoring against these FAQs would have penalised the app for being correct.

Banking: RBI replaced its ombudsman scheme on 1 July 2026

The app's dataset contains the Reserve Bank – Integrated Ombudsman Scheme, 2021. RBI replaced it with the 2026 scheme on 1 July 2026 (the 2021 scheme still governs complaints filed before that date). To stay both current and fair, only 2026 questions whose rules are unchanged from 2021 were used: how to file, tracking, filing through a representative, no fee, what happens without a settlement, appeal time limits, withdrawal and languages. Questions whose rules changed (the filing window, now 90 days; compensation limits, now ₹30 lakh / ₹3 lakh; definitions and grounds) were excluded, and updating the dataset is listed as future work.

Cybercrime Reporting Portal FAQ	Cyber	Action on a false complaint	Outdated. Cites the Indian Penal Code, replaced by the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 from 1 July 2024.
RBI Integrated Ombudsman Scheme 2021 FAQs (SBM Bank copy)	Consumer (banking)	All 8 used in the first draft	Outdated. The 2021 scheme was replaced by the Integrated Ombudsman Scheme, 2026 on 1 July 2026.
RBI Integrated Ombudsman Scheme 2026 FAQs. Q17, Q22, Q23	Consumer (banking)	When to file; compensation limits	Rules changed in 2026 (90-day filing window; ₹30 lakh / ₹3 lakh). The dataset still has the 2021 scheme (one year; ₹20 lakh / ₹1 lakh), so it cannot answer these correctly yet.
RBI Integrated Ombudsman Scheme 2026 FAQs. Q5, Q15, Q26	Consumer (banking)	Deficiency in service; grounds; rejection	Definitions and grounds changed in 2026 , as above.

C2. Excluded for other reasons

Source	Domain	Question(s) not used	Why
National Consumer Helpline. Q45	Consumer	Filing fees	The answer is a table that does not survive as plain text.
National Consumer Helpline. Q8	Consumer	Can a business buyer complain?	The whole official answer is “No” — too short to score.
National Consumer Helpline. Q15	Consumer	Who is liable for a misleading advertisement?	Oversimplifies the Act (publisher liability is qualified).
Department of Consumer Affairs — FAQs on the CPA 2019 (PDF)	Consumer	Whole source	The site did not respond when downloading; the National Consumer Helpline covers the same law.
Cybercrime Reporting Portal FAQ	Cyber	CSEAM definition; hash value	Technical or definitional; not what users ask.
DoPT — FAQs on RTI (PDF)	Constitutional / public authority (RTI)	Whole source	Same questions as the Delhi FAQs with worse PDF text; the Delhi version fits the Delhi focus of the dataset.

Source	Domain	Question(s) not used	Why
Delhi Government RTI FAQs, Q22	Constitutional / public authority (RTI)	Complaints under the Act	Words were lost in PDF extraction; not guessed.
—	Tenancy	—	No official Delhi tenancy FAQ exists; tenancy is tested in sets 2 and 3.

Changes made to the official text

Answers are verbatim. The only edits repair problems introduced by extracting text from PDFs:

- Words rejoined where a stray space split them: “t o” → “to”, “In formation” → “Information”, “rec eived” → “received”, “complaint s” → “complaints”, “e- mail” → “e-mail”, “RB -IOS” → “RB-IOS”, “third -party” → “third-party”.
- Stray section headings removed from the end of two answers (“Second Appeal”, “RTI AUTHORITIES”).
- RBI's standard disclaimer paragraph removed from the end of its last answer.
- rti_07 trimmed to its first part (the second-appeal rule, with its section reference) because the list that followed was jumbled by the PDF's two-column layout.

File format

Each item in official_qa.json has these fields:

Field	Meaning
id	Unique id, e.g. consumer_01, banking_03
domain	The app's domain name: consumer, cyber, or constitutional_public_authority
topic	Finer topic, e.g. banking ombudsman (RBI), right to information, free legal aid
question	The official question, word for word
reference_answer	The official answer, word for word — the reference for ROUGE and BERTScore
expected_sources	Dataset documents the app is expected to retrieve (assigned by the team, not from the source); every name matches a document title in the dataset
source_title / source_url	Where the item came from notes	Original question number in the source, and any caveat

Limitations

- No tenancy questions. No official Delhi tenancy FAQ exists; tenancy is covered by sets 2 and 3.
- FAQ answers are short and formal, while the app's answers are longer and structured, so ROUGE in particular will score lower than the answers' real quality. BERTScore handles this better.
- ROUGE and BERTScore reward similar wording, and can score “you may not claim” highly against “you may claim”. They are reported alongside AlignScore and a small hand review, not on their own.
- expected_sources is a team judgement of which documents should be retrieved, not part of the official source.

Next steps

- Run the 50 questions through the app once and save its answers and retrieved sources.
- Score the saved answers with ROUGE and BERTScore, overall and by domain.
- Report the results next to the internal test-set results, and review a sample of answers by hand.
